

Sada-e-Urdu

No. 22 - October 2016 - Zul Hijjah 1437 H

A publication of The Urdu Speaking Union

ANNUAL PRIZE CEREMONY

Pg 2

“Urdu is easy and it can reach the masses,
whereas Persian and Sanskrit are difficult for them”

Entretien avec la lauréate 2015
Ms Fadouila Lallmahamood

Pg 3

REQUEST

This newspaper contains names of Allah and the Holy prophet (PBUH) at several places. Readers are kindly requested to handle with due respect.

PEACE – OUR LULLABY

We are born;
We give birth;
We live and earn a living;
We have dreams and visions.

We do not carry our life in a suitcase
But grow roots
And develop love and affection,
We live by the sweat of our brows
For we not loot or plunder!

How about you massacred Palestinians!
Didn't you also have children!
Weren't you also mothers and fathers!
Weren't you also brides and grooms!
Weren't you also loved, nursed and nurtured!

You, lucky Palestinian survivors
Do you not mourn your dead?
Do you not miss your near and dear?

Why has peace such a heavy price?
What is the price of empty beds and uncreased pillows?
What is the price of broken bracelets and anklets?
What is the price of shrieking bright henna?

Y.Abdullatiff